'This Is Forest Primeval'

FOREST - LIKE Meussdorffer property, on Hanover street off Whittier, is biggest target in Jefferson Elementary district's quest for new General Pershing school site. Approximately 42 homeowners in this area are being asked by school officials to sell their land. If residents fail to come to terms, prices will be determined in court under condemnation proceedings. School districts have the right of eminent domain under present law.

PERSHING SCHOOL SITE

Will Condemn Property Owned By Trustee Kin

Sixteen of the 42 property owners who will be up-rooted by the new General Pershing school have expressed an "amiable" interest in agreeing on a sale price with Jefferson Elementary School district, assistant superintendent David Shapiro told trustees Wednesday.

But it appears condemnation cannot be avoided on the one-acre parcel on Brunswick and Lowell in San Francisco, owned by Maude R. Appleton, mother of school board chairman Hartley.

Appleton said Wednesday that the "unquestionable conflict of interest" would prevent him from negotiating with his mother, even if she agreed to selling her property at a price reached by certified appraisers.

While the district has started condemnation proceedings on all of the 42 parcels involved in the 10-acre site, administrators will attempt to negotiate up to the last possible moment to avoid litigation.

Shapiro told the board that notices were sent out to all owners early this week and that 16 had already responded in an "amiable" manner. "They wanted to know two things," Shapiro said. "What is the price we'll get and when do we have to move out."

Appleton's mother owns three adjacent parcels at Brunswick and Lowell, comprising about one acre, and her home is located on the piece at 631 Brunswick.

Her property is part of the 2½ acres of San Francisco land, in addition to the Daly City property, that is being sought by the board for the 12-classroom school.

"I don't see what else we can do but go to condemnation on her land," said Appleton. "But I'll leave it up to the district attorney's office to tell us what to do."

Appleton said he would have to abstain from voting on his mother's land.

"I had hoped she would accept the appraiser's price and avoid condemnation but I would still be subject to criticism," Appleton opined.

Largest of the 42 parcels sought is the vast Irene Meussdorffer estate on Hanover street.

"We thought we could take care of this land acquisition quietly," Shapiro told the board. "But it appears there's no such thing."

In other acquisition matters Wednesday, the board accepted offers to sell from three owners of property adjacent to Benjamin Franklin school.

Offers were: Scafidi, $14,100; Costello, $13,200; Woods, $14,700.

BOARD ADJUSTS RECORD HIGH SCHOOL BUDGET

Third and what appears the final draft of the 1957-58 budget—a record $1,464,308—was adopted Monday night by high school district trustees after a routine transfer of reserve funds.

The board hiked the total from $1,355,388 by shifting some $109,000 of the $900,000 cash on hand from the current budget.

The $109,000 transfer, almost $60,000 of which will go to replace Jefferson furniture and equipment, came from undistributed reserve.

By encumbering these reserve funds, the district will be able to remain on its $1.35 per $100 assessed valuation general purpose tax rate. Additional decrease in bond redemption means a lowering of

Meat Law Upheld, 3-2

For the second time in little more than a year, the city council Monday turned down a request to repeal a 28-year-old ordinance which prohibits sale of fresh meat after 6 p.m. and on Sundays.

An audience of about 40 persons heard the council uphold the ordinance, 3-2.

Councilman Del Wilson's move to repeal the law was backed only by Mayor Joseph Verducci. Councilmen Sanford Vickers, Paul Hupf and Micheal De Bernardi opposed the measure.

Both sides came armed with arguments and signatures.

State Senator Richard Dolwig, attorney for George Glass and Mike Jacobs, proprietors of Daly City super markets, outlined four reasons why the measure was no longer necessary.

4000 Names

He first submitted names of 4000 persons who had signed petitions asking for the additional hours of meat sales. He also claimed the original intent of the ordinance was to allow proper inspection of meat, and argued that the health problem no longer existed with modern refrigeration methods.

Thirdly, he said, the ordinance worked a hardship on local merchants because Daly City residents traveled to nearby South San Francisco to buy their meats after 6 p.m.

He cited as a fourth reason the convenience to customers, declaring the council "shouldn't regulate free enterprise."

On the opposition front, Attorney Arthur B. Jacobs appeared as representative of the San Francisco Meat Institute and San Francisco Retail Fish & Poultry association, two organizations made up primarily of proprietors of small markets.

"Not As Bad"

He said similar ordinances still existed in many cities as health measures and maintained that the competitive situation is not as bad as it seems.

He said South San Francisco only allowed sale of meat up to 7 p.m., although most all of the markets in that city advertise sale of meat until 9 p.m.

He also cited the fact that San Francisco and Oakland still had the 6 p.m. and Sunday meat sale restriction.

He, too, presented the council with a batch of signatures, about 3000 in all, supporting the present ordinance.

"Are we going to continue under the horse and buggy law," asked Dolwig. "Competition is being stifled. It's even hurting the small markets."

"Great Hardship"

But Jacobs rejoined that to change the ordinance would work a "great hardship" on the small market owners. He said they couldn't afford to pay the extra wages to a butcher and couldn't physically maintain the extra hours themselves.

Wilson, asserting that to change the ordinance was "not

Daly City's petition protest of "unfair" reassessments before county supervisors will be continued in a second hearing at Redwood City next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

James Hempstead, county assessor, requested more time to study the "evidence."

Vince Craft, Del Wilson, Paul Green, Ed Murphy and Pete Markovich testified on behalf of Daly City before supervisors Wednesday, citing "discrepancies" in the county's method of reappraisal.

Almost 2000 names are on the Daly City petition, majority of the signatures from Westlakers who will be affected on immediate tax rolls.

Prospects Better For Rest Of '57

Building activity in Daly City hits its lowest ebb since 1952 during the first six months of this year.

But prospects are for a substantial increase in construction during the final half of 1957, a survey by THE RECORD showed today.

Figures obtained from the building inspector's office show that 366 building permits, totaling $2,050,389 in value, were taken out from January through June 30 of this year.

This was less than half of the $5,402,171 total on 424 permits during the initial half of 1956, and about half of the six months totals for the corresponding periods back to 1953.

A myriad of factors accounted for the slump, but the big block to building was "tight" money—inability to secure low cost, low down payment loans for home financing.

Slight easing of these restrictions are expected to bolster the building trades world considerably during the next six months.

Unit 9 Underway

Daly City's largest developer, Henry Doelger Builder Inc., has started construction on Westlake Unit 9, which will consist of 680 homes, and estimates that 40 to 50 of the medium—priced $13,995 dwellings will be turned out every month until completion.

This production rate is a decided increase over Doelger's output earlier this year, which dropped to a virtually standstill, with only some 175 workers on the payroll. The firm now has a crew of 300 trades people employed.

The Doelger building is no where near their high output of 90 to 100 homes a month, but the Westlake development is nearing its finis, as only Unit 9, and the 1200-home Unit 10 remain to wind up the tract.

Unit 9 will be finished late next spring, after which construction will start on the final development in the subdivision, Unit 10.

To Investigate School 'Bank Day' Educational Value

Trustee Hartley Appleton Wednesday urged an investigation of the "bank day" practice in the elementary schools, questioning whether the school district is "acting as messenger boys for some bank."

Bank day is a period set aside one day a week when pupils bring their pennies and nickels to school to deposit in a savings account. The practice has been adopted by most school districts as an educational measure, teaching elementary finance to the youngsters.

Appleton said he thought the program was "non-educational" and merely burdened the teachers with extra clerical work.

Trustee Joe Lewkowitz told Appleton, "You're stepping on somebody's toes. If we drop the program the bank might not buy anymore of our school bonds."

A citizens committee will be appointed to study the educational merit of "bank day."

Trustees Consider Administrative Pay In Secret Session

Jefferson Elementary School district trustees met in a half-hour closed session Wednesday to discuss administrative salaries with Odell Associates, a research group.

Salaries under discussion were those of Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, his assistant, David Shapiro, and two jobs which have not been filled—a second assistant superintendent and a director of education.

The board apparently reached an impasse on the matter of salary for a director of education, and therefore could not proceed with establishing the other salaries, which hinge on the amount paid the director of education.

DC LIBRARIAN CLARK QUITS FOR NEW JOB

Pat Clark, Daly City librarian since fall of 1955, submitted her resignation to the city council Monday night.

She announced that she is taking a position in San Luis Obispo as city librarian.

A graduate of University of California library school, Miss Clark has brought many innovations to the local library and was at the helm during development of the temporary Westlake-Broadmoor branch on Park Plaza drive.

In addition, she supervised the modernization of library furniture, brought many facets of the library program up to date, set up a system for collection of fines, added many volumes to broaden's the library's subject base and worked closely with the library commission, especially on preliminary plans for the Westlake branch to be built on Southgate avenue.

She will return from vacation next Monday and end her duties here on July 31, at which time she will report for the San Luis Obispo job.

In the interim, the city will advertise for someone to take over the position.

COUNCL TO WEIGH ASSESSMENT ROLL

The city council will sit as the board of equalization Monday, July 22, to hear protests on the 1957-58 property assessment roll.

The board hearing was scheduled for this Monday, but was held over so that more people could be notified of the proceedings, according to Mayor Joseph Verducci.

Adoption of the assessment roll, estimated at $32,500,000 will be prelude to establishment of the 1957-58 tax rate, but councilman will probably adjourn to a later date for this matter.

'Family' Booze Party Ends In Row, Arrests

A booze party involving two minors Monday night brought the arrest of a 58-year-old Daly City housewife.

Taken into custody were a grandmother, her 12-year-old foster child and his 16-year-old uncle.

Truda K. Darling, 41 Garibaldi street, was charged with providing minors with liquor.

The woman, and the 16-year-old got into a brawl during the drinking spree, bringing police to the scene. She was treated for two black eyes and body scratches.

The youngest boy told officers his grandmother (guardian) had purchased a fifth of whiskey, a bottle of wine and two six-packs of beer. She and the lad's uncle were "living it up" when he came home. Then the 12-year-old joined the party. He admitted drinking four beers.

$184,900 Low Bid On Ben Franklin School Additions

Contract for constructing a seven-classroom addition to Benjamin Franklin school was awarded to E. H. Moore & Sons Wednesday by Jefferson Elementary School district trustees.

Their total bid of $184,900 was low of four proposals submitted.

Trustees also approved purchase of $23,221.28 worth of furniture for Vista Mar school, $13,465.60 for Vista Grande.

Wednesday's session, at which Trustee Hartley Appleton took over duties as chairman, was one of the shortest meetings of the board on record winding up at 10:35 p.m., as contrasted to the usual post-midnight marathons.

Other action included:

1. Requested district attorney's opinion on counter proposal to City of Daly City calling for district to contribute $9000 instead of $11,000 to Market street improvements.

2. Selected Trustee Katherine Mullen to county committee on school district organization.

Colma Firemen Battle 2 Blazes Within 10 Hours

Colma firemen were summoned to two blazes, one serious, within a 10-hour period this week.

Two Colma and three Daly City engines responded to the first fire Tuesday afternoon at 2.10 p.m. at the home of Martha and Jessie Hodge, 312 D street.

The blaze apparently started when a television tube exploded. Firemen battled for more than an hour before subduing the flames, after an estimated $3000 damage had been done. The entire living room was gutted and furninshings destroyed.

Broadmoor police and Colma firemen experienced some moments of anxiety, beleiving that one person had been trapped in the burning house, but later learned the report erroneous.

Firemen were summoned again at 12:10 a.m. Wednesday morning to Big Bear Lumber Co., San Pedro road and Pierce street, where a short in an electric saw ignited outside wall of the building.

The fire charred rear wall of the building and burned up the saw. Damage was estimated at $1200.

HIGH SCHOOL ON COASTSIDE SHY ACREAGE

Speeding a third high school in Sharp Park by 1960 gave trustees an additional roadblock Monday night—lack of adequate acreage as recommended by the state.

The district has about 39 acres wrapped up for the Sharp Park site and is rushing purchase of a third parcel to reach the state-desired formula of 47 acres.

State highway plans, however, taking 4.5 of the district's "best acreage" have cramped the projected "useabie" acreage.

Elwood Lehman, state school official, visited the area with district chiefs last week. Citing lack of useable acreage, only some 26.37 out of the 47 acres sought. Lehman suggested negotiations with the government and Catholic church officials, who own property adjoining the site.

Supt. Ed Morgan will contact NIKE and church officials to determine if the district can acquire strips of their property. Congressman J. Arthur Younger will be approached, Morgan said, if the government negotiation appears possible.

Under state recommendation, the district needs a minimum of 47 useable acres. This is based on a minimum 30 acres plus an additional acre for each 100 students at the school.

Sharp Park school will accomodate 1700 Coastside students—thus the 47 acre projection. Useable acres, that is.

NO LEADS YET ON DOG KILLER, HUNT CONTINUES

Recent mutilation deaths of three dogs here remain unsolved as police continue their hunt for a sadist.

County SPCA officials are working on the case, but no leads have developed. Chief Roland Petrocchi urges all residents to report any instances of cruelty to animals, hoping to track down the man responsible.

This week, Mrs. Phyllis Sanchez, 85 Orange street, told officers two of her dogs disappeared a few weeks ago. She decided to report the incident after reading about the deaths of the three other dogs.

All three incidents took place in the older section of the city. One of the slain canines belonged to police Sgt. Dave Hansen.

Mum's The Word On Mr. Earp

Who stole Wyatt Earp's tombstone from Hills of Eternity in Colma?

The 300 - pound hunk of granite was reported missing early Sunday morning. Take's planning for a haul of this kind. But Colma cops have no leads.

Could have been done by college kids, who sometimes use dynamite, steal panties, and, in general, raise cain. Or maybe a Hollywood publicity stunt to keep the TV craze going. These are the extremes, of course.

The grave raiders even tried to take Earp's ashes with 'em. Dug into the turf about two feet. Probably decided time was of essence in the moonlight caper.

Folks in Tombstone, Arizona (a good place to be from) have been sounded out. Wyatt slaughtered three rustlers there for killing his kid brother. Tombstone businessmen are looking for more tourist trade. It figures. Dead community.

The "revenge" act sent the sheriff after the big hero. Earp scooted to Colorado. In 1891 he moved to San Francisco.

Records show Earp breathed his last in 1944. Expired at the age of 83.

Few folks, before last year, knew the trigger artist and his wife were buried in Colma. Since the revelation, crowds have mounted at graveside — final flickering of the old West.

Anyone seeing a 300-pound rock should notify Colma authorities. It doesn't make much difference to the guy behind the legend.

1957-58 TAX PROSPECTS

Government To Take $1.50 More

See Editorial Page 8.

With eight separate governing bodies comprising 11 different taxing entities in the throes of final budget adoption, how much of an additional bite will taxes take out of your budget next year? It could be as little as $1.50.

In a survey conducted by THE RECORD, it appears the bite won't be as bad as the bark. As of row, only three of the governments which affect Daly City residents tax statements plan tax increase.

They include the City of Daly City, which plans a seven-cent hike to $1.55 per $100 of assessed valuation; San Mateo county (general purpose), which will probably be raised from $1.56 to $1.63; and the county free library, which will be boosted from 8.3 cents to 10 cents, under a new statutory limit established by the state.

No Schools Boost

The two local school districts, although anticipating whopping budget increases, won't be forced to raise taxes because of reductions in bond repayment. Jefferson Elementary School district expects to maintain the $2.30 rate, while the biggest "windfall" to taxpayers, at least for the 1957-58 fiscal year, will come from the Jefferson High school district, which estimates that the rate will be dropped from the present $1.92 to $1.82 or $1.84.

In both school districts, general purpose rates will remain the same but reductions in bond repayment and increased assessed valuation have made it possible to avoid tax hikes.

Other rates that will probably remain static include those of the San Mateo County Harbor district, an inconsequential ger firm will start soon on more apartment units and also plans some commercial ventures, among which will be several stores on Southgate avenue and a large super market, which will do much to boost total valuation of building during the coming six months.

Daly City building will get an important shot in the arm toward the end of this year, when Zita Corporation launches construction on its subdivision, St. Francis Heights.

George McKeon, Zita spokesman, said the maps for the tract would be finalized in the next month and bids called for on grading.

The tract's size could range from 1200 to the original estimate of 2500, depending on the amount of property taken for school sites.

McKeon said litigation, and not lack of adequate financing, has held up the project, which was scheduled to start almost a year ago following annexation of the property by Daly City.

When construction on the tract hits full stride, about mid-1958, the Zita corporation will employ some 1000 men, including sub-contractors.

The corporation alone will have between 400 and 600 of its own men.

Guy Needs New Suit, But No Down Payment

Frank Mosca, a tile setter's helper from San Francisco, lost his "shirt" to a car booster Wednesday afternoon.

An auto-driving gentleman pried open the wing window on Mosca's sedan, parked at Goethe and Mission, and made off with Mosca's new dress suit.

A Texaco station attendant saw the act and gave chase in his car. But the culprit disappeared in the traffic.

3. Discussed ways to streamline the agenda to make for shorter, more efficient meetings. Among proposals was one by Appleton to allow each trustee a specific spot on the agenda to bring up new items; and to combine superintendent's reports into one presentation, rather than as individual items.

4. Approved raising gas mileage allowance from eight to 10 cents a mile for passenger cars, 10 cents to 12 cents for pick-up trucks.

5. Urged state division of highways to proceed immediately with investigation on need for traffic signals on Skyline boulevard.

Bar Is Raided: Safe-Breaker Flees With $1500

Police today pushed their investigation of a $1500 safe-cracking job early Monday morning at Tiny's tavern, 6054 Mission street.

One suspect, seen in the bar several times before the burglary, was questioned Wednesday. A check of his home uncovered a crowbar, presumably the tool used in the break-in and safe opening. The suspect has a criminal record.

Officers said the intrusion occurred between 2 and 10 o'clock Monday morning. The "pro" entered by prying several bars from a window at the rear of the building. The safe, located in the kitchen, was minus—its dial mechanism when co-owners Abe Rosenstein and Bill Lonich discovered the loss.

Tiny's was hit late in 1955 by an armed robber. The invader, a three-time loser, later was caught and sentenced to San Quentin for life.

After failure of Wilson's motion, Glass later declared, "The council is arbitrarily establishing shopping hours for the people." He indicated there might be an initiative measure to place the proposed ordinance repeal on the ballot next April.

In May of last year a similar move to repeal the ordinance was squelched when the council tabled the matter, 2-1, with Paul Hupf and Edward Dennis voting in the affirmative, Wilson opposing the delay.

Verducci at that time abstained and Vickers was absent.

Award Auto Bid

In other action Monday, the council:

1. Awarded bid to Neville Motors to supply city with 1½ ton pick-up truck to be used in servicing street lights. Neville submitted low proposal of $2593.04. De Bernardi opposed awarding any bid, arguing that it would mark the first step in eventual formation of a separate street light maintenance department.

2. Tabled request of C. M. Boyington to collect salvage in Daly City, pending further discussion with Daly City Scavenger Co. on possible conflict of the two operations.

Final rundown on the 1956-57 school year at Jefferson High School district showed that Westmoor had an 820 enrollment, with 800 average daily attendance, while Jefferson claimed 1139, with 1091 ADA.

Westmoor's daily absences, over the year, was a scant two per cent, as compared with the state-wide "truancy" rate of six per cent. Jefferson had a good four per cent daily absence rate.

Jackie Yaeger, 12-year-old Daly City girl, continues to improve at Mary's Help hospital.

Struck down by a car three weeks ago, the Colma school youngster is gradually recovering consciousness. She is eating regularly and appears to recognize her parents. Her vision and speech, however, are impaired.

Jackie suffered a skull fracture in the mishap. No other bones were broken, doctors said.

The girl underwent surgery a week after the accident. Surgeons discovered brain damage, but predicted she would live despite two weeks of 50-50 reckoning.

.0012 cents, and the San Mateo Junior College district, which cannot exceed the present 36.7 cents limit.

North San Mateo County Sanitation district may have some good news in the form of a three-cent reduction from the present 27.8 cents.

Dollars And Cents?

What does this all mean in dollars and cents when you pay your taxes for the 1957-58 year?

For a Daly City resident, the total increase in taxes will amount to about five cents per $100. The entities planning tax increases — city, seven cents; county, seven cents; and library, 1.7 cents—comprise a total increase of 16 cents, but this is almost offset by those governments planning reductions: Jefferson High, eight cents; sanitation district, three cents; for a 11-cent total.

The nickel increase will cost you 50 cents for every $1000 in property valuation.

In the older section of Daly City, where the average home is assessed between $2600 and $2700 (including land), the total increase in taxes will range from $1.30 to $1.35 for the year. Veterans, of course, receive a $1000 exemption off the top, which would cut their increase by 50 cents.

In the newer Westlake area, where valuations with land run from $3500 to $3800 (without exemptions) the tax jump will vary from $1.75 to $1.90, with the increment going to as high as $3 and $4 dollars for some of the more luxurious corner homes. Again, of course, the $1000 vets exemption would cut the total raise by 50 cents.

Many Variables

Of course, many variables could affect the tax rate before your first bill becomes due next winter. On the one hand, should the surprising 14 per cent increase in assessed valuation throughout the county allow the county and city governments to slice their proposed rate increases, the total increment could be even less than a nickle per $100.

But your total cost of government could go well in excess of $1.50 to $2 if new fees and charges are instituted, water rates raised, etc., such as planned by Daly City. In addition, assessments for city tax billing purposes will be a little higher since the city has adopted the county tax roll, which places higher valuation on property.

And all eight of the governments affecting Daly City residents pocketbooks still have some time before final budget adoption. But at least the trend, judging from preliminary figures, indicates a healthy disdain for any tax rate increases. And this attitude won't find many opponents among the rank and file property owners.

Five Grass Fires Confront Firemen

The "kids will be kids" theory continues to worry Daly City firemen.

No less than five grass fires were doused early this week by the round-the-clock corps.

Chief Elmer Kennedy reported blazes in the Crocker hills, Hillside and Price, Hillside and Bismark, on Price street and West Moltke. Didn't take much to extinguish them, but such incidents can cause real trouble.

A fallen voltage wire, over fire, log blaze, and an assist to Colma fireman at Big Bear Lumber company completed Kennedy's mid-week report.

BOARD ADJUSTS RECORD HIGH SCHOOL BUDGET

tax rates some 10 cents the coming school year.

Under the state aid program, soon to be entered by JUHS district, cannot have more than 25 per cent of its total estimated expenditures, exclusive of capital outlay, in reserve funds. Anything over the 25 per cent would be taken by the state.

Distribution of surplus into capital outlay, undistributed reserve and general reserve—meeting the 25 per cent limit, means the extra money will remain with the district for additional needs.

At the July 22 board meeting, Morgan will recommend earmarking additional reserve funds for the Jefferson and Westmoor plants, and the Sharp Park project. Public hearing on the budget is August 5.

Supt. Ed Morgan explained that the distribution of the surplus funds wasn't padding. It merely will be applied to budget categories in which minimum projections were made. Opening of Westmoor has caused some "indefinite" estimates on costs, with the extra money necessary just in case, Morgan emphasized.

The third budget draft, with surplus added, provides a balanced budget, in line with an $1,608,000 increase in the district's assessed valuation for 1957-58.

The $109,000 transfer Monday night included $12,000 to certificated salaries, $20,000 to instructional costs, $10,000 to operation salaries, $2000 to food service, and $5000 to community service.

Biggest outlay in the budget is approximately $934,446 for certificated salaries.

Council Bickers Over Sanitation District Project

Sanitation district's request to dump sewage effluent into a city storm drain channel near the district treatment plant off Alemany won approval of the council Monday, 4-1, over vigorous protest of Councilman Sanford Vickers.

The effluent would be mixed with storm drain water only about four or five times a year, during periods of heavy rain, according to Councilmen Micheal De Bernardi and Del Wilson, directors on the sanitation district.

The district will construct a by-pass, at approximate cost of $6000, which will allow excess water coming through the sewage plant to be carried out to the ocean with storm drain water in a nearby channel.

Directors said this would mean a savings of about $30,000 to taxpayers, since to construct a by-pass from the treatment plant to the ocean outfall north of Daly City would cost approximately $35,000.

Vickers argued that the sanitation district and city of Daly City were two different entities and declared that the city might involve itself in litigation by allowing the treated sewage to be mixed in with storm drain water.

Vickers, a former sanitation district director, moved unsuccessfully to table the matter, after which the district's proposal won 4-1 approval.

A certain amount of storm drain water already runs through the sewage treatment plant, according to Public Works Director Otis Calhoun. He said there would be no need for the by-pass if city storm drain water was not being dumped into the sanitary sewers, causing excess flow during heavy rains.

Firemen Will Get That Day Off For Holiday Work

Firemen will get an extra day off if they are required to work on a holiday, the personnel board informed a representative of the Daly City Police & Firemen's association Tuesday.

Frank Specht, appearing for the association, said there was some misunderstanding about the board's recent recommendation to the council on time off for holidays.

Board members said a schedule would be formulated to give all firemen a day off in lieu of holiday work.

The board decided to repeat examination for PBX telephone operator clerk, after one candidate protested that some questions in the test were not related to the duties.

Exam for garage serviceman will also be held over in an attempt to secure the minimum three candidates. Only two persons took the first test.

Request from city employees to make position of city electrical inspector a promotional job was unanimously approved, after the employees pointed out that there are sufficient personnel working for the city who could qualify for the job.

Employment lists for four jobs were approved. They are, ranked in order of eligibility:

Water meter readers — Eli Black, Lyle Pedlar.

Engineer aide I—Raoul Berninger, Armand Vides.

Police dispatcher clerk — Charles Maschinot, Thomas Timko, Carmel Ramsey, Iris Crooker.

Senior building maintenance man (recreation)—Joe Bloem, Reginald Calvert, Mel Tafoya.

The jobs will be filled within 10 days.

The board also advertised for a secretary I in the recreation department and announced that ads were being prepared for the recently vacated post of city librarian. It will probably take two or three months to fill the position, according to Fred Avilez, administrative assistant.

Duty statements for 13 routine city jobs were approved by the board.

Teachers' Dependents Aided By New Law Pushed By Francis

Legislation was signed yesterday by Governor Goodwin Knight which provides that the dependents of a school teacher shall be entitled to receive the salary due at the time of his death in an amount computed on the basis of the total annual salary divided by the number of days in the year.

This measure was introduced by Assemblyman Louis Francis at the request of the faculty of the College of San Mateo, with the approval of Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, president and district superintendent.

Francis explained that this legislation is necessary to eliminate the unfair practice which now exists in a few school districts under which the surviving spouse or children of a school teacher have been required to repay to the school district a part of the salary received by the teacher prior to his death in the early fall semester.

"This new law will eliminate such inequities," the lawmaker concluded.

Planners Lack Quorum

Lack of a quorum forced the planning commission to call off its regular monthly meeting Tuesday.

The planners will not meet again until August 13.

Broadmoor Police Won't Pay Extra DC Radio Charge

At least one new revenue source pondered by the city council won't make the grade, according to word today from Broadmoor police chief Ray Savage.

Commenting on Daly City's Proposal to charge Broadmoor police anywhere from $200 to $400 a month for use of the Daly City police radio frequency, Savage said, "They won't get it." The Broadmoor district now pays Daly City $100 a month for the service.

Councilmen proposed the increase as one of many means to raise sufficient revenue to meet a $110,000 fund shortage confronting them in their record $1, 319, 345 budget.

"We've already budgeted for three radios," said Savage. "But we can go on the sheriff's office or some other police department radio if Daly City raises the price.

"If they can't make the tax rate, we'll help them—we'll loan them some money."

Savage contended that his department gave a great deal of assistance to Daly City law enforcement and that the increased cost of radio service was unwarranted.

Broadmoor police commissioners Tuesday night passed a $34,959 budget which will call for a one or two cent tax cut below the 1956-57 rate of 38.3 cents.

BUY 'EM BY THE CARLOAD

On Page One of this issue appears a story projecting probable tax increases facing Daly City residents for the 1957-58 fiscal year.

On the basis of preliminary study by this newspaper, the total combined tax increase, including all of the eight governmental districts affecting Daly City residents, may not exceed 5 cents per $100 valuation, or a lump sum of about $1.50 for the year.

This relatively low total increase is possible because of tax reductions in some districts and maintenance of present tax rates in others.

Only entities which foresee rate increases are the City of Daly City, which plans a seven-cent hike, San Mateo county, which foresees an equal boost, and the county free library, which will go up approximately two cents.

If it were not for the consistent hammering of this and other newspapers and the combined voices of an aroused citizenry, property owners in this county could well be faced with excessive tax increases.

When a governmental body talks of five or ten-cent tax increases, they usually pose the analogy of "only so many packs of cigarettes" a year.

But the important thing to remember is that there is not just one political entity competing for your property taxes, but eight in this particular city, 11 counting the various funds set up by the school districts.

Add these to the taxes levied by state and national governments and the total is staggering.

A nickel increase by each government could mean as much as $50 more a year in taxes for the average homeowner, considerably more for persons with extensive real estate and commercial holdings.

Public officials talk of nickel and dime tax increments as nominal, always pointing to the need for the particular services which their government provides.

But the Cost of Government the citizen sees is that reflected on his tax bill, and it comes at him from every direction.

Politicians must not only view the costs which their particular district is placing on the individual, but the aggregate total which the taxpayer must bear.

In the 1957-58 fiscal year, things don't look too bad. As we said, continual campaigning by local newspapers and cumulative voice of the man at the end of the tax statement played a big part in minimizing the tax bite for the year.

We don't compute tax increments as "only so many packs of cigarettes" a year. Government officials would have us buying 'em by the carload.

Brisbaner Claims Old Homes Won't Suffer In Tax Hike

Far be it from me to try to use your newspaper for a battle ground for the Brisbane Home Owners association but I do not recall using the name of the association in connection with any annexation plans. But I do hope that someday we can annex to a larger city and have proper representation, rather than incorporate by ourselves and have everyone fighting everyone to see who is going to be mayor.

As for the tax bill next November, most of us with the newer homes will pay much more than $12 a year.

Of course, if you live where you are now paying only a couple of dollars in taxes (with the veterans exemption) you could well afford an increase of $12 or more, especially those that have no children and the husband and wife are both employed.

I have nothing against our veterans claiming an exemption as I think they well deserve something. But that is no reason for them to campaign to raise our taxes to an unreasonable amount.

Mr. Rewak also claims the veterans exemption but we backed him as trustee because he was a little more tax conscious and was aware of the whole situation as to how high our taxes will soar for the average homeowner.

Speaking of sour grapes, I never saw such long faces as were on the trustees and school workers after their election failed in February. The only trouble was that they were on the other side so they could use the taxpeyers money to call another election around 60 days later.

St. Martin's Church Praises Coverage

Dear Editor:

July 24 will mark the second anniversary of St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Westlake. On this occasion, I should like to express to you and your staff the appreciation of our vicar, the Rev. Allen J. Downey, and our congregation for the splendid publicity given all our activities by the WESTLAKE TIMES and THE RECORD. Excellent coverage of local civic affairs marks these publications as outstanding in their field and a real asset to the communities they serve.

Very truly yours,

Rourke was released on $500 bail to appear this week in municipal court.

Rotarians To Host District Governor

The Rotary club of Daly City will be host Wednesday to Monroe F. Brown, Governor of District 413 of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 51 Rotary Clubs in the district. He will address the local Club and confer with President Rudolph Richter, Secretary Parkes Harris and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

Brown operates an insurance agency in Burlingame and San Mateo and is a member and past president of the Rotary Club of Burlingame. He was elected as a District Governor of Rotary International for the 1957-58 fiscal year at Rotary's 48th Annual Convention in Lucerne, Switzerland, last May.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, President Richter asserted in discussing the governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary club of Daly City because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the people of the world.

San Mateo County Cancer Crusade Goes Over Goal

San Mateo County branch of the American Cancer Society today voiced thanks to local residents for their support of the annual Cancer Crusade.

Mrs. Albert A. Hedge, county president of the San Mateo County branch, announced that the county has exceeded its 1957 quota. With a goal of $75,355, thus far $80,000 has been raised, she stated, and contributions are still coming in.

The annual campaign drive, which begins in April each year, is conducted by an organization of over 4000 volunteers in a house-to-house canvass. At the same time, valuable educational pamphlets are distributed to the homes visited throughout the county.

Much of the money collected by the county branch is turned over to the national organization for use in research, the principal project of the society. Forty percent is retained by the local branch, and is used to support the educational program and the loan closet which supplies hospital equipment to needy cancer patients in the home. Special assistance, such as visiting nurses, pain-relieving drugs, is provided upon request of attending physician and after adequate financial investigation.

Mrs. Hedge singled out the county's newspapers, radio and television stations for thanks in connection with the success of the drive.

Veterans News

By Grace J. Hill

An undetermined number of widows now receiving death compensation from the VA may be eligible for higher amounts under the Survivor Benefits Act which became effective in January. Those who filed by July 1 will receive retroactive payments; those filing from now on will get payments from date of filing. Higher payments may result in cases where a veteran died of service-connected causes incurred in peacetime service. Widows should check with a service officer or VA regionel officer immediately. A widow's rights will be protected if she is advised on the payments — under old or new laws — whichever benefits are higher.

VA figures indicate that nearly 40 percent of National Service Life Insurance now held by WWII veterans is of the permanent type. This is nearly double the number of 10 years ago.

Importance of conversion to permanent insurance, the VA points out, is that such policies build up a reserve which can be borrowed against, while the term insurance has no reserve, no borrowing value, and must be renewed at higher premium rate every five years.

Veterans interested in permanent insurance can get information at any VA office.

Lake Merced Post 9921, VFW, is busy this summer planning many activities and trips for the Boy Scout Troop which it sponsors. An overnight hike was recently enjoyed and there will soon be more of them.

Westlake Post 535, American Legion, will install the following officers on July 22, in Westlake community club house: Commander, Milton Underwood; first Vice Commander, Sam Agnello; second Vice Commander, John Pickens; Adjutant, David Graff; Finance Officer, George Holman; Chaplain, Harold Blumenthal; Sergeant-at-Arms, Milton Palamini. The 40 & 8 Ritual Team will conduct the installation. The public is invited.

410 Installation

Daly City Post and Unit 410, American Legion, will hold installation of officers, Thursday evening, July 11, in Daly City Legion Hall. Special speakers will be Gary Ryan, representative of Boys' State, and Deana Dolan, representative of Girls' State. These young people will have many interesting things to tell about this most important program conducted each year by the Department of the American Legion in California. Everyone is invited.

Brisbane Post 473, American Legion, has been represented in the 26th District by Frank M. Mullen, commander of the 26th District. He will relinquish his office to Leroy Henderson, of Burlingame Post, at the district installation to be held Friday evening, August 2, in Burlingame Legion Hall.

On Friday evening, July 26, The 26th District will institute a new post of the American Legion in Linda Mar. This post, composed mostly of WWII veterans, will do much to strengthen Legion membership in the north end of the county.

FRESHMAN LOU FRANCIS

Assemblyman Cites Progress

Assemblyman Louis Francis reported at the Mayors' Legislative Council meeting last week in San Bruno that over 7900 legislative measures were introduced during the 1957 general session of the State Legislature which recently adjourned.

He told the mayors it was too early to determine the exact number of measures that would become effective, because recapitulations were incomplete and many bills will be vetoed by the governor, who has until July 17 to sign the bills now on his desk. According to most capitol observers it is estimated that only about 33 percent of the 7900 measures will become effective, because considerably less than 300 won approval of both houses of the legislature.

Francis also reported that the greatest part of his legislative program successfully passed. Out of the 46 measures introduced by him, exluding "spot" or "skeleton" bills, 32 psased, for a percentage of 70 percent for his freshman session. Of the 14 bills that failed, eight were passed to the assembly and died in the senate, and four were referred to the appropriate intenim scommittee for further study. He also co-authored about 80 other measures which passed the legislature.

LOUIS FRANCIS
. . . Busy session

Five of Francis' bills have already been signed into law by the govenor. One provides for stiff drunk driving penalties, the second outlaws switchblade knives, the third provides insurance protection to motorists against uninsured motorists, the fourth strengthens litterbug laws, and the fifth benefits highway carriers.

Among the state legislator's bills awaiting the govenor's signature is legislation directly affecting and benefiting San Mateo county. These are measures relating to the widening of the San Mateo-Hayward bridge, school construction aid, community recreation aid, four-year state college study, new county courts, school teachers' survivors' benefits, assistance for charitable organizations and formation of public districts.

Francis also authored and introduced legislation of statewide interest for non-fixable traffic tickets, University of California retirement benefits, telephone calls for arrested persons, sick leave rights and others. All of these bills also passed the state legislature and were sent to the Governor.

In addition to his legislative report, Francis discussed with the mayors the Junipero Serra boulevard extension problem. Each mayor presented his city's position and viewpoints. It was agreed that a further meeting would be held in September after public hearings had been conducted and reports made available from the division of highways and other sources.

DMV ANNOUNCES JOB OPENINGS FOR EXAMINERS

State employment for men in newly authorized positions as driver's license examiners in State Department of Motor Vehicles will become available this fall in branch offices throughout California.

Paul Mason, director of Motor vehicles, pointed out that "the examiner's position is the entering level in a career service in which opportunities for promotion are good. The work is interesting and challenging." Appointments will be made after a civil service examination to be held in August.

"Applications for the examination must be filed on or before July 26, 1957," Mason stated. Information about the jobs, requirements for applicants, and the necessary forms to be filed are now available from all offices of the department of motor vehicles."

Local office is located at 199 Southgate avenue in Westlake.

Stan Seaton, motor vehicle representative in charge of the Daly City office, said the announcement of the examination sets forth educational requirements as "equivalent to graduation from college." Substitution of business, professional or military experience in place of the educational requirement is authorized. Salary range for the positions is from $376 to $458 per month.

JUHS Chief Gets Convention Duty

Edward D. Morgan, superintendent of Jefferson Union High school district, was accorded additional distinction this week.

He has been selected chairman of the meeting on "Public Relations in School Administration on the Local Level," to be conducted during the California Association of School Administrators convention in Long Beach, October 7 through 10.

Morgan, who assumed duties here last year, recently was awarded a salary raise and new four-year contract by high school trustees. He is regarded one of the better school administrators in California.

High Costs Force JUHS To Slice Pupil Insurance

Faced with mounting expenses, Jefferson Union High school district trustees Monday night moved to drop its 100 % pupil insurance coverage, effective this September.

Beginning with the 1957-58 school year, only Jefferson and Westmoor students participating in team sports will be covered by the district. Other parents, however, will be encouraged to participate in a voluntary insurance plan.

Superintendent Ed Morgan reported that present student coverage costs the district $6000 a year. He said the coverage a few years from now would hit as much as $15,000 a year—an expenditure from general funds and "extremely high."

Morgan reminded that most parents have coverage on their children and the district's present pupil coverage was secondary protection.

"We regret having to drop the full coverage, but we are burdened with extreme costs," he emphasized.

Morgan said the administration would supply parents with recommendations on adequate coverage with reliable firms.

Francis Gets OK On Insurance Law

A bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County has been signed into law by Governor Goodwin Knight which will give relief to highway carriers on payment of large insurance premiums after voluntarily suspending their permits issued by the public utilities commission.

Under the present law, a highway carrier can voluntarily suspend his permit by request, but must maintain valid insurance on file with the commission for 30 days after such suspension. As a result, highway carriers must pay premiums on insurance of $115 to $200 for each vehicle for the 30-day period, although the vehicle is not in operation.

This bill supported by the insurance industry, highway carriers and the commission will become effective September 11.

Governor Firms 'Litterbug' Law

Litterbugs better be cautious in the future because Governor Goodwin J. Knight has signed a litterbug enforcement bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo county. The measure authorizes cities and counties to give rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons unlawfully dumping garbage, cans, bottles, trash and refuse on public roads and private property in violation of present litterbug laws.

Francis, author of the legislation, commented: "Cities and counties have found it difficult to enforce state laws prohibiting such dumping without the cooperation of private citizens. This has been especially true in San Mateo county and the Bay Area. Last year it cost over $100,000 to clean roadsides of litter in the Bay Area alone."

"The dumping of garbage, trash and refuse on public roads and private property is in direct violation of present state laws and has become a serious problem in many cities and counties because of the difficulty of law enforcement. Such unlawful acts create a serious health problem and mar the beauty of our State and counties. It is hoped that this law will greatly aid in the enforcement and effectiveness of our present state laws," stated Francis.

Driver Takes 'Detour', A Shortcut To Court

Automobiles should be driven on streets and not lawns.

John B. Head, 29, a San Francisco man, learned the hard way last week in Westlake.

The out-of-towner had too much to drink. And he drove. Police first spotted his vehicle weaving west on South Mayfair. A few siren blasts later, Head's car plowed over the curb at Lynnewood and South Mayfair, barreling onto the lawn opposite Town and Country market.

"I've had it," said the San Fransiscan to Officers George Brooks and James Bergstrom.

Truer words were never uttered. Head flunked a sobriety test, refused a blood test, and was belligerent en route to the cooler. He forked over $500 bail a few hours later.

Judge Thomas Bocci will lecture Head on the pitfalls of drunken driving. It costs a fair penny, too. On lawns or otherwise.

'SERVICE' DISTRICT BILLS APPROVED BY GOV. KNIGHT

Three bills by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo were signed by Governor Goodwin J. Knight today to facilitate the formation of public corporations and districts which are empowered to provide much needed services for the people living within such districts.

These measures will affect state and county water districts, drainage districts, irrigation districts, reclamation districts, airport districts, fire protection districts, public utility districts, and hospital districts.

Highlights of the bills are provisions that legislative bodies of such districts may include costs and fees incident to a proposed public improvement in the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, or the amount of assessments to be levied to finance such projects.

Francis, in explaining the need for this new legislation, said, "The rapid and great increase in population in our state has necessarily caused the formation of countless public corporations and districts to provide important services for the people. It has been necessary to finance public projects in most cases through the issuance and sale of general obligation bonds."

These bills also clarify and make uniform present laws concerning issuance of bonds and levy of assessments.

Firecrackers, Crime 'Quiet' During Holiday

Crime and confusion took the proverbial holiday hereabouts during the July 4 layoff, with Broadmoor and Daly City police reporting a minimum of trouble.

Fireworks, outlawed by city ordinance practically were nil. Broadmoor had no complaints. Officer Jim Welsh, DC desk, reported only about 20 calls—a real comedown from last year's frenzy.

Broadmoor was as quiet as its name sounds. A couple of drunk driving arrests, plus a hit-run (auto by another auto), all in Westlake, headed the DC blotter. No injuries, though.

Chief Ray Savage of Broadmoor said it was unusually "silent" for a holiday. Ditto, Chief Roland Petrocchi.

Only one firecracker fire bothered Daly City firemen. Chief Elmer Kennedy said juveniles set a stump on fire in a lot at Niantic and San Mateo. A grass fire behind the National Guard armory, a rubbish glaze at Citrus and Niantic, and a car ignition flareup at Hoffman and Wyandotte, completed the holiday action on Friday.

DC POLICE HALT COASTSIDE CAPER OF 2 S. F. GALS

Unemployed Leta Lorraine Seward, 42-year-old San Francisco woman, was booked for drunk driving Friday night at the Skyline-Alemany intersection.

Police said Miss Seward's car, northbound on Coast highway, was periling traffic. Several times the woman's car swayed from the shoulder of the road to the white line, they reported.

Miss Seward's passenger, Josephine Cassinelli, also had been drinking, according to the report. Both women admitted "having a few" at a Coastside pub.

Miss Seward posted $500 bail. She's due in municipal court this Thursday.

Seven DC Army Reserves Open Summer Training

Seven Daly City residents, all members of the 6212th Army Reserve Service Unit, a U.S. Army Transportation Unit, this week began a two-week training program at Fort Cronkhite, located on the southern tip of Marin County just across the Golden Gate Bridge from San Francisco.

The 6212th, under the command of Col. William A. Clayton of Orinda, California, is the parent unit of nine reserve outfits that have converged on Fort Cronkhite for their annual active duty training. These nine transportation corps units, composed of more than 300 men, have come to Ft. Cronkhite from Stockton, Vallejo, San Francisco, Oakland, and as far away as Los Angeles, and will remain in this area through July 22.

This is the third consecutive annual summer camp in Marin County for the 6212th, who have practically set the pattern for Army Reserve summer camps. This unit has demonstrated how a reserve unit can be self-supporting, both from a training and an administrative standpoint.

Lake Merced Optimists Await Charter Fete

Lake Merced Optimist club will be presented its official charter from Optimist International this Saturday at 8 p.m. in Rickey's Red Chimney, Stonestown, it was announced today by Fred S. Bennett, group president.

The club, recently organized, has 28 members. The charter party is the highlight of the club's first year and Optimists throughout the district are expected to attend.

Wheel Parade To Draw Record Throng

From all indications, the second annual Linda Mar Shopping Center's Wheel Parade, to be held Friday, July 19 at 2 p.m., will attract a record breaking entry list.

Children from the Coastside have been busy working out plans to enter anything on wheels and some of the floats, built around an old pair of skates, will do justice to professionals.

With any child, boy or girl, under 14 years of age, eligible, a list of prizes worth over $100 have been arranged by the Linda Mar merchants. Children will receive ice cream, Hunt's donuts and small souvenirs of the parade, according to Rudi Solomon, chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

The children will form at the Purity market, in the center of the huge parking lot, and will parade throughout the entire shopping center, with the judges, Ray Whitney, Pedro Valley postmaster, Fred Lucas, superintendent of the Laguna Salada elementary school district, and J. L. Walker Jr., picking the winners from the reviewing stand in the middle of the 30-store shopping center.

Other members of the committee serving with Solomon include John Van Horbeck, Walter Davini and Charlie Hallmark.

The committee stated it is not necessary for entrants to sign up for the parade, but that all children must be in the starting area prior to 1:30 p.m. on Friday.

Church Minister, Wife Counselors At Youth Meeting

J. Richard Friedline, minister of Vista Grande Avenue Christian church of Daly City, and his wife, Mary, this week attended the Christian Youth Fellowship conference at Westminster Woods as counselors.

The Camp, 40 miles north of Santa Rosa, is for high school age youth. Nancy Golden, Lillian Lott, and Charles Bryan represented Vista Grande Christian.

In the absence of the Rev. Friedline, Edward Lambert, Elder of Vista Grande Christian church, will speak at the 10:55 a.m. morning worship service on the subject, "Be Ye Doers."

At 7 p.m. the congregation will hold its annual meeting, starting with a basket supper. New officers of the church year will be elected.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the Christian Women's Fellowship, under leadership of president Doris Rockey, will hold its first meeting of the church year in Fireside hall. All women of the church and community are invited, regardless of church membership.

COLUMBUS DAY QUEEN ENTRANTS FACE DEADLINE

Italian - American Federation of San Mateo County will sponsor its annual Columbus Day Festival in San Mateo, October 12 and 13, the organization announced today.

Deadline for girls who wish to enter the Columbus Day Queen contest is this Friday. Young ladies interested should contact Dan Casentini, PL 6-4521, or Roy Barghini, PL 5-5658.

Ildo Rosellini, IAF president, said that all proceeds from the queen contest go to the federation's scholarship fund, annually going to needy, college-bound students.

St. Martin's Gets Rolling For Bazaar

Reminding women of St. Martin's Episcopal church that only 110 working days remain before their auxiliary's third annual bazaar on November 16, a special meeting will be held next Monday, July 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Hugh Simmons, 612 Southgate avenue, to make gift and household articles for the sale.

Among projects undertaken this year is the styling of extensive wardrobes for dolls to be given as prizes to church school children in the ticket sales contest. Since the clothes will be handmade by the auxiliary's best needlewomen, these awards will be of considerable value.

Stuffed toys, novelty beanbags, and doll clothes in standard sizes will be among the handmade gifts offered, and such popular bazaar items as aprons, dish towels, and potholders will also be available. Persons preferring to work at such crafts as jewelry making, raffia work, ceramics, candlemaking, etc., may obtain materials through the auxiliary.

Mrs. Walter F. Michels is general chairman for the event, assisted by Mrs. Gordon Raeside, Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Brugge, Mrs. J. T. Stansfield, and Mrs. B. G. Nagy. St. Ann's Circle, the afternoon sewing group, will resume its weekly meetings in September. Meanwhile, work to do at home may be procured from Mrs. Brugge or Mrs. Simmons.

Baked Goods Sale

Funds for cerebral palsey and muscular dystrophy will be goal of Colma Vista Grande Eagles Auxiliary 1848 when they hold a baked food sale Saturday at Sprouse Reitz Daly City store.

All proceeds will go to these two causes.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

For the sake of readers who have spent the last few months in Outer Mongolia—you may be interested in knowing that "My Fair Lady" opened at the San Francisco Opera House Monday night, and "with a little bit o' luck," you'll be able to occupy one of the seats still available. If you hurry.

We are aware of the pitfalls inherent in reviewing any production which has had the fantastic critical acclaim and popular success which this musical has received. If we praise it, there will be those who will shrug and say, "Oh, well, she doesn't dare go contrary to the New York reviews." If we snip at it, the same readers will shrug and say, "Oh, well, she likes to be contrary. Anything to be different, you know."

Sumptuous Production

There have been times when we haven't agreed wholeheartedly with the New York press, but this isn't one of them. "My Fair Lady" is a sumptuous production, a visual delight. It is a superb synthesis of music, decor, costumes and performers, headed by Brian Aherne and Anne Rogers as Professor Higgins and Eliza Doolittle. And anyone who misses it is just plain foolish.

Based on Shaw's "Pygmalion," it contains an amazing number of the original lines. G. B. S.'s caustic wit is still in evidence, but it is softened by the delightful Lerner lyrics and lilting Loewe melodies. What originally was a social comedy has become a memorable musical comedy with satirical overtones.

Miss Rogers is very effective as Eliza, the poor but ambitious flower girl, handicapped by the appalling accent of the London slums. Her appealing voice is a bit light by opera house standards, but amplification takes care of that. May we suggest just a bit more amplification?

Superb Costumes

Aherne is properly stuffy as the professor who teaches her to speak and act like a lady. An accomplished actor, he handles the straight part of his role with ease and gets around his musical problems by half singing, half talking his lyrics.

Charles Victor plays Eliza's impossible father, and his is a role we would like to have seen built up. Also, it is a pity that the "Ascot Gavotte" is so short. Not only is it musically satisfying, but also it is here that Cecil Beaton's superb costumes are seen to fullest advantage.

Musical comedies are generally presented in two acts. Entrancing as they were, we found "My Fair Lady's" two acts a little long, individually. A second intermission, as at the opera, would cure that.

NUPTIAL mass at St. Peter and Paul church marked the recent wedding of Diana Lazzareschi and Attilio Raggio. The couple have established residence in Westlake. Southern California was the site of their honeymoon.

Diana E. Lazzareschi Becomes Mrs. Raggio

Diana Elizabeth Lazzareschi and Attilio M. Raggio exchanged vows recently in a ceremony at St. Peter and Paul church, officiated by the Rev. Richard W. Power.

The couple honeymooned in South California and have made their home in Westlake.

The new bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Foti, 293 Wilshire avenue. She formerly attended Notre Dame College in Belmont.

Mrs. Annette Raggio, 890 Filbert street, San Francisco, is mother of the benedict. He was a student at Hastings Law School and University of California.

Diana's wedding gown was designed especially by Tami-Henri of San Francisco. It consisted of Swiss applique on imported white tulle. Her headpiece was a tiny juliet cap, held in place with an elbow-length veil of French bridal illusion. She carried a book arrangement of white butterfly orchids with lilies of the valley and white cottley orchids.

Honor attendant was Lynn Gagan, the former Lynn O'Brien. Bridesmaid duties were shared by Elena Foley, Patricia Kern, Noel McCarthy and Gloria Rosener. Yvonne Guiffie was flower girl.

Jack Novarro was best man. Robert Santos, William Rosener, Steven Perata and Michael Scuderi were the ushers.

Reception was held in the Olympic Club at Lakeside.

More Activities For Fairer Sex At Ben Franklin

Something for the girls is one of the ideas which energetic recreation director Marcia Shuken is planning to add to the schedule at Benjamin Franklin school as soon as possible. She would like to have two afternoons a week devoted entirely to organized sports for girls of all age groups, so all would—be Olympiettes are asked to stop by and tell her about the sports they would be interested in having.

Boys haven't been forgotten, either. Archery and boxing and tumbling began this past week, and will continue each Friday. Archery will be given at Garden Village school from 9:30 to 12, and boxing and tumbling will be at Benjamin Franklin school from 1:30 to 3. Children from both school playgrounds may attend either or both events.

For the pingpong enthusiasts, the Benjamin Franklin tournament began this week, and will be held Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30. A checker tournament is in the offing. Latest addition to the schedule is a folk dance time — 11 to 12 on Wednesdays.

Softball, the perennial and daily favorite is at 10:30 a.m. everyday but Thursdays, usually, with Tuesday being the day for the weekly game with Garden Village.

Arts and crafts classes have been busy; the first project, basketry, has been completed, and this week the group will be working on keyboards. Projects ahead include copper and aluminum tooling, painting, drawing, and place mat weaving.

Both Mrs. Shuken and her associate director, Sid Phelan, are anxious to have as many fifth graders and older as possible make Benjamin Franklin their summer recreation headquarters. The more who come, the more teams and events can be planned for these older children, so that they will derive maximum enjoyment from the playground's summer schedule.

Calls for parent volunteers to help with this program are being made by members of the James L. Snell PTA. Information may be obtained from the directors or from Mrs. Irwin Cohen, PL 6-0460, Mrs. Fred Smith, PL 5-8648, or Mrs. John D. Mitchell, PL 5-0679.

Bountiful Sonora Camp Entertains Local Girl Scouts

Camp Sonora, Girl Scout established Camp for girls of North San Mateo County, is buzzing with activity. It is located in the Mother Lode foothills, approximately 150 miles from here.

The camp is in the midst of 70 acres of wooded hills and open meadows, which offers every advantage of outdoor living, mountain trails for hikes, scenic spots for out-of camp trips for experienced campers, and natural resources for programs. There is a beautiful swimming pool, hot showers and fire circles.

Attending the first session (July 1 to July 13) are: Larrie J. Burke, Carol Mozzetti, Noel Narlock, Penny Richner, Barbara Spencer, Marsha Thompson, as claim jumpers; Judy Mozzetti as a tommy-knocker, all of Brisbane.

Girls from Colma include Robin Frisch, Pamela Johnson and Stephanie Rice, claim jumpers; Margaret Mori, as ore digger; Geraldine Giese, Lynn Jones, Kathleen McDonald, Marietta Shanoian, and Charlotte Webb, tommy knockers. At the Senior Camp are Barbara Golladay, Laurel Klaisner and Ann Mori. Girls attending from Daly City include Marilyn Dodson, Carol Duke, Sharon Gentile, Charleen Westram and Kathleen Wille, claim jumpers; Priscilla Gruenwald and Linda Ann Pedersen, ore diggers; and Senior Scout April Moseley. A few from San Francisco attending the first session are Nancy Armacost and Diane Hutton, ore diggers.

B'nai Israel Bldg. Gets Face-lifting

A face-lifting job has been applied to the front of the building of B'nai Israel, the new conservative congregation at 67 Los Banos avenue in Daly City.

Members who contributed time, skill and effort are being congratulated by the rest of the congregation. They are Jacob Siegel, Paul Lichtman, Ernest Hartmann, Nate Pearlman, Sherman Cohen, Jack Bresler, Mr. Dubrow and Sam Holzman, president of the congregation.

Public is invited to join in Friday evening services at 8:30 p.m. and also to attend the social hour following, according to Rabbi Solomon Shore.

Colma Couple Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrogio Guastavino, 441 87th street, Colma, will observe their golden wedding anniversary this Saturday.

Born in Italy and long-time residents here, the couple will be feted by relatives and friends at a party in San Francisco.

The Guastavinos have two daughters and two sons.

Ambrogio is 70, his wife, Josephina, 58.

OLPH EXTENDS PAPER DRIVE

Paper drive at OLPH, scheduled to start this weekend, will continue until August 18, a Men's club spokesman said today.

Reason for the extended deadline, he reported is that many people are on vacation and aren't available.

All school children are eligible to participate in the fund-raising drive. Proceeds go to the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and OLPH Youth Benefit Fund.

Top prizes will be awarded youngsters who collect the most paper, while all children who help will receive gifts.

For paper pickup service, persons should call James Goulden, drive chairman, PL 5-8222, or his assistants, Joe Arnold, PL 5-4410, and Albert Estrada, JU 7-2140.

Cramer Accepts Pack Charter At 'Finale'

Pack 241's last monthly meeting of the summer was held June 27 at the Westlake club house. Mrs. Robert Cohen, president of the Westlake-Clympia PTA, sponsors of Pack 241, presented Art Cramer with the pack charter.

Among the many awards presented were graduation banners to Douglas Johnson, Edward Perry, and Ralph Riviello, who will become scouts in Pack 240.

Cecil Teague, leader of Pack 240, made the presentations.

New members Dennis Barbato, Kenneth Muller, Anthony Riviello and Frank Knowlton were inducted in a Bobcat ceremony led by John Cuniberti of Den 4.

A game of musical chairs and a Disney cartoon rounded out the meeting, after which refreshments were served.

Playgrounds Rotate 350 County Books

Libraries were established at all local playgrounds last week with almost 350 books supplied by the San Mateo County Library.

The volumes will be rotated so all children in the summer recreation program will have a variety of reading material.

Patricia Clark, Daly City librarian, coordinated the transfer.

Stonestown Is Site Of Temple's Holyday Services

Charles Becker, president of Temple Judea of Westlake, announces that High Holyday services this year will be held at the Temple Baptist church of Stonestown.

Centrally located and featuring a spacious parking area, the church is easily accessible to public transportation facilities from all parts of the Bay Area. A beautiful sanctuary containing an excellent pipe organ and public address system contribute significantly to the outstanding features of this house of worship, creating an atmosphere conducive to the spirit of prayer and meditation on the High Holydays.

This year, for the first time, a memorial plaque containing the names of departed loved ones to be memorialized in blessed memory on the Day of Atonement, as well as throughout the year, will be dedicated and placed in the sanctuary, to be transferred to the chapel of the Temple house in Westlake following the Holydays. According to Max Rudorfer, chairman of the memorial plaque as well as the annual memorial booklet committee, the names on the plaque will be permanently inscribed for an everlasting memorial.

This Friday evening, July 12, 8:30 o'clock, the Bar Mitzvah of Ronald David Charyn, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold C. Charyn, will be held at Temple Judea. Rabbi Leo J. Stillpass will officiate. Everyone in invited to attend the service and reception.

STANFORD GROUP JOIN 'TOURISTS' AT W'MOOR HIGH

Westmoor High, ultra modern plant opening this September, is gaining nation-wide acclaim for its unique architectural design.

Next in a long line of outsiders touring the school will be individuals at Stanford University's Seventh Annual School Planning Institute, July 29 - August 2. The Stanford group will make a field trip to Westmoor on July 31. Supt. Ed Morgan and Principal Glenn South will escort them.

Department of Commerce in Washington has requested that Architect Mario Ciampi's model of Westmoor be forwarded to the International Trade Fair in Vienna, Austria, this September. Ciampi, however, will be a unable to comply, fearing that shipment of the model might damage it — considering the long trip.

An angry man is Sylvester T. Bly,
Who today was sold a piece of "blue sky."
He'd stepped in a showroom—out of the rain,
Was sold a new car before he could explain!
How he hated the styling—so high and square
And in new features it was really bare.
"I got a real bargain—the buy of my life—
But how do I ever convince my own wife?"

Moral: You're paying for a new car...make sure you get one!

When you buy a new car, put your money on tomorrow—not yesterday. Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field. Should you invest in high, boxy styling when Dodge offers the low, low look of tomorrow? Should you invest in outmoded coil springs when Dodge offers new Torsion-Aire Ride? Should you invest in an old-fashioned lever-type transmission when Dodge offers the ease of Push-Button Driving? In other things, too—engines, brakes, interiors—Dodge is years ahead. So put your money on tomorrow. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge!

Daly City Employees Business Agent Under Fire In SM

Harry Crocker, business agent for Daly City Employees Union Local 919, came under fire of the 500-member San Mateo County Employees Union Monday night.

The San Mateo group aired a list of charges against Crocker in demanding his removal from office.

Among charges were: Lack of courtesy, lack of membership organizing program, failure to carry out definite instructions, lack of good judgment, tact and self control.

Crocker said the charges were "irresponsible and frivolous."

A decision on Crocker's status will be announced at national headquarters in Washington, D. C., this Friday, it is expected.

He Huffed, Puffed, Then Passed Out

Paul Kear, 58, a farm hand, decided to visit his estranged wife here Tuesday evening.

He entered her apartment house, 7394 Mission, and banged on the door. She wouldn't answer. He got mad and announced he'd knock the door down.

Weary and a too "spirited," Paul then floated down the hall and fell kerplunk in a washroom. Passed out, police said.

Officers sobered him up in city jail .He was bailed out for $25.

Ex-Colma Teacher Notches No-Hitter

Bill Mendosa, former teacher at Colma Elementary, hurled a seven-inning no-hitter Friday night as Ralph's Cleaners nipped Rollingwood, 2-1, in the San Bruno Softball League.

Mendosa fanned 13 batters in a stellar show of control.

The cleaners occupy third spot in the standings.

On top is Edy Grant of San Francisco. Gateway Chevrolet also is in the eight-team league.

Portal Lutheran's Building Project Nearing Finish

A new educational unit containing six classrooms, several offices, and an auditorium-gymnasium is nearing completion at West Portal Lutheran Church, 200 Sloat boulevard. The architect is Charles Strothoff. Martinelli Construction Company, Inc., are the builders.

Classes from kindergarten through ninth grade are scheduled for September. Parents interested in enrolling their children and those desiring further information may phone the church office, OV 1-9904.

The sermon series for July focuses on the theme "Christians As Citizens of Two Kingdoms." "The Loyalty of King David to His God and People" will be Sunday's topic. The summer schedule of Sunday services is at follows: 8:30 and 11 a.m., 7:30 p.m. Sunday School and Bible Classes meet at 9:45 a.m.

On July 15, the Rev. A. H. Haake, pastor, will leave for Guatemala City. There, as chairman of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod's Board of Missions for North and South America, he will attend a conference of Lutheran pastors serving the church in Central America.

The new vicar, Graeme Rosenau, arrived recently from La Porte, Indiana. He is enrolled as a student of theology at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri. His year of vicarage, during which he will assist Pastor Haake, falls between the third and final years of resident study at the seminary.

Rehabilitation Center Receives Strong Support

Keeping pace with enormous public interest in the construction of San Mateo County's own Rehabilitation and Research Center in Burlingame, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors and the Burlingame City Council have gone on record with unanimous endorsements for the objectives of the new center—a project of the San Mateo County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Incorporated.

Objectives of the Crippled Children's Society in providing this new center will be rehabilitation for the disabled regardless of race, creed or color and the program will meet all requirements of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the California Department of Public Health and other governmental and private standard-setting agencies.

Treatment will be available to all ages from infancy upward with the exception of severely mentally retarded cases.

Since 1940, the San Mateo County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., has worked steadily toward a completely integrated, modern rehabilitation center to meet the daily-increasing needs.

County Gets 5th Muni Court Judge

San Mateo County received its fifth municipal court judge when Governor Goodwin Knight signed the bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis today.

The additional judge will serve as the second judge in the Central Judicial District, which consists of San Mateo, Burlingame, Hillsborough, and Millbrae, and will also relieve the judges in the other two judicial districts in the county. This new judge will be used to relieve other judges who are ill or on vacation.

"It is planned that he will help clear congested court calendars caused by the rapid growth of population and the resulting increase of cases during recent years," Francis said.

YOU NAME IT -- GARDEN VILLAGE PET PARADE HAD EVERYTHING

By Gwin Mitchell

Two small and sleepy Dalmatian puppies, a brown and white kitten, a nervous hamster, and a coffee can full of snails were among the entries at last week's pet show at Garden Village school.

Proud owners lined up beside their turtles and white rats, sat and held their pet cats, or soothed their excited dogs. While the judges were making their rounds, everybody had something to talk about, including a small wriggly cocker-poodle, who made loud remarks about everything until he finally won his ribbon and went proudly home. It was too much for one big black cat. He leapt from his owner's arms, streaked for the fence, and scooted off over the parking area, his red robbon trailing in the dust.

Awards, loudly cheered, were as follows:

Dogs: most decorated—Freckles, a beagle belonging to Charlotte Webb. Prettiest — first place to Spookie, cocker spaniel, owner Laurie Brandt; second place to Brownie, cocker spaniel, owner Bruce Spry. Trickiest—first place to Sugar, collie, owner Bobby Phelan; second place to Laddie, mongrel, owner Dean Taylor. Best family group—Dallas (mother) and pups Scratchy and Tex, owners Chris and Clifford Zerkotes. Largest—first place to Baron, a mastiff belonging to Robin Golobic; second place to Kicky, boxer, owners twins Linda and Sandra Ricci. Cutest—Boots, toy shepherd, owner Tommy Orlich, first; Spots, mixed cocker, owner Sandy Thiemann, second. Smallest — Frisky, pekinese, owner Marty Stillpass, first; Buff, cocker-terrier, owner Pamela Halley, second. Most unusual — Buffy, mongrel, owner Carolyn Blake. Funniest—Butch, poodle, owner Judy Dafferner. Friendliest — Kim, mixed, owner Tom Winkler. Best groomed — Delilah, boxer, owner Bobby Williams. Liveliest—Gypsy, cocker, owner Joline Dollison.

Cats: prettiest—Kitty, black cat, owner Eleanor Werner. Cutest — Vanilla, buff kitten, owner Paul Vorsatz. Smallest—Butterscotch, brown and white kitten, owner Carl Vorsatz. Largest — Muffie, gray cat, owner Kathy Micelli.

Turtles: most decorated — Pixie and Twinkle, owners Steve and Glen Eastman. Liveliest — Sneezy, owner Mike Sattel. Smallest — Dizzy, owner Michael Storm. Largest — Pixie, owner Steve Eastman. Cutest name — Stevie, owner Steve England. Funniest—Fuzzy, Speedy, Timothy, owner Jay Jacobs. Most unusual color — Turly, owner David Kruger.

Rodents: Smallest — Timid Timmy, hamster, owner Tom Dillon. Also won Most Decorated.

Largest — Lizzy, white rat, owner Steven Walthard. Cutest name — Sniffles, white rat, owner Bobby Jarka, first; Stinky John, hamster, owners Steven and Danny McGowan, second. Funniest — Stinky John, hamster, owners Steven and Danny McGowan.

Fish: smallest — Rusty, owner Julie Carleton. Largest — Dale, owner Jill Jacobs. Cutest name—Chip, owner Jeff Jacobs. Liveliest—Goldie, owner Susan Barnett.

Results of the two turtle races were as follows:

First race—first, Glen Eastman's Twinkle, second, Steve Eastman's Pixie, third, Mike Clarkson's Sneezy. Second race—first, Jay Jacobs' Speedy, second, Steve England's Stevie, third, Mike Storm's Dizzy.

Something For Everyone

By The Staff Of The Daly City Public Library

Big business has become a favorite subject of novelists in recent years, and writers are portraying the businessman as a hero, with high ideals and driving ambitions. The most popular book of this type in recent years was "The Man In the Gray Flannel Suit," by Sloan Wilson. It is the story of a prosperous suburban commuter whose future happiness is threatened by a responsibility he incurred during his service in World War II. More recently, this has been a popular motion picture, which brought renewed interest in the book.

"Executive Suite" and "Cash McCall," both written by Cameron Hawley, have also been enjoyed by library patrons. "The Power and the Prize," by Howard Swiggett, tells of politics and the ethics of big business as they infringe on the personal life of a young man. Other titles that follow the present trend of "business men" stories include "Man of the World," by Stanley Kauffman; "All Honorable Men," by David Karp; and "The Success," by Helen Howe, which presents the side of the career woman.

Fiction is always the most popular of summer reading selections, and for those who would like something a bit lighter for vacation reading, the Daly City public library and the Westlake-Broadmoor branch library offer such titles as the following: "Written On Water," the newest work of the ever-popular Vicki Baum; "Born In Wedlock," by Margaret Echard; "Stopover Tokyo," a long-awaited Mr. Moto story by J. P. Marquand; "Hangman's Cliff," a real thriller, by Robert Neill; a new collection of stories by William Saroyan, "The Whole Voyald and Other Stories"; Joseph Conrad's "Tales of Land and Sea"; "The Looking Glass Conference," an international political satire by Godfrey Blunden; and James Thurber's "Further Fables for Our Times."

These and similar items for vacation reading are available at your Daly City public library, 6351 Mission street, and its Westlake - Broadmoor branch, 34 Park Plaza drive, in the Westlake shopping center. Try your public library first, because your library has something for everyone.

PIANO and vocals are just two of the talents of Phyllis Adams, 17, a Westlake beauty and "Miss Daly City" for 1957. The sparkling young lady seeks the "Fiesta Dream Girl" title next week, qualifying the winner for California State Fair competition. Phyllis attended Balboa High. She's working as a junior clerk. Next year she'll be a coed at SF State. RECORD photo

COUNTY CONTEST

Miss DC (Phyllis Adams) Eyes 'Fiesta Queen' Nod

Sugar and spice—and everything nice.

Miss Daly City has the stuff to become "Fiesta Dream Girl" at the San Mateo county fair.

Phyllis Adams, by name. You'll be hearing much more of the Westlake girl. We believe she could be the choice of the Peninsula—from our town to the county seat.

Seventeen years young, Miss Adams is the All-American type. Wholesome. Refreshingly cute.

One Of Two

She's the eldest of two Adams girls. The family occupies a neatly furnished home at 84 Brooklawn avenue.

Sister Pat, 16, is a Westmoor junior. Phyllis graduated from Balboa last month. She's working for California Packing Corporation as a junior clerk. Young gents give her more than a one-second gander.

Next year, after the "working gal" stint, Miss DC will enter SF State College. She'll major in home economics. Career-minded, that is. Unless she decides on matrimony. The home econ training helps in either case.

Phyllis is unattached at present. Many dates. No specific steady. Anyway, she's too young to marry. Like the song.

A Vocalist

Speaking of music, that's the honey blonde's main hobby. Not that she isn't versatile. The outdoor variety, fo rsure. Phyllis likes Elvis, but she isn't the aisle-rolling kind. Possessed of a good voice, Miss Adams prefers less hectic, more conventional popular and semi-classical numbers. Plays a good piano, too.

Body-wise, she has no problems. She's a Vogue-ish 5-4 and 35-23-35. Streamlined ease on the optics.

Her folks, Fave and Fay, moved to Westlake a couple of years back. They came to the Bay Area two decades ago from Seattle, land of the bashful beauties. Dad works as an exec for an insurance firm.

The Showdown

Phyllis carrys Daly City's banner against the field in San Mateo on Thursday evening, July 18.

Winner of the "Fiesta Queen" Nod will reign over the county fair—a shindig that gets better with age. If successful, Phyllis will wear "Miss San Mateo County" in the California State Fair beauty competition. Need we say more? Opportunities galore await the Sacramento victor.

Don't be surprised if our Miss Adams hits the headlines. A deserving accomplishment for one so well equipped.

SNELL PTA AFFAIR

Novelty Races Keep Village Kids Plenty Busy; Winners Announced

Last Thursday was a busy day at Garden Village school. In addition to a pet show, youngsters from Garden Village and Benjamin Franklin summer recreation programs vied with each other in a series of novelty races, to the accompaniment of cheers, laughter, and, in some races, much falling down.

The potential balloon inherent in any piece of bubble gum was aptly demonstrated, with Dean Taylor, Ralph Lynch, and Susan Garretson taking top honors in the 7-years-and-under group, Cheryl Quanstrom, Jim Henderson, and Dennis James placing for the 8-and-9-years group, and Judy Thiemann, Maryann Shields, and Carolyn Rose winning in the 10-years-and-over group.

The sack races came off with a due quota of winners, despite the many tumbles taken by the contestants. John Balsells, Mike Clarkson, and Steve Eastman came in for the 9-year-old boys group, and Barbara Suenderman, Nancy Baxter, and Barbara Sullivan took honors for the girls. The two 10 and 11-year-old girls races saw Fran Buhman and Loreen Abbott in first places, Susan Wilson and Kathie Woods in second places, and Linda Fratto, Joline Dollison, and Sally Walker in third. Joline and Sally tied.

Wheelbarrow Duels

Wheelbarrow races finished with Bruce Hix and Jerry Ward as first team, Jim Swoverland and David Milton second, and Terry Myers and Jim McGowan third, and the crab race went to Mike Garner, Ron Mattle and Jim Swoverland, in that order.

Sprints seemed to be most popular, judging from the number of entrants. Results:

Five-year-olds—Dru Micelli first, Dot Fransalter second, Chris Woods third. Six-year-olds—Ricky Smith first, Carl Vorsatz second, Mike Storm third. Seven-year-olds — Lauren Fratto first, Susie Garretson second, Kirk Atwood third. Eight-year-old boys — Jerry Garner first, Bob Young second, David Robertson third. Eight-year-old girls—Pat Phillips first, Pat Woods second, Margie Clayton, third.

Tuggers Tie

After some moments of good hard work, with nobody giving in to anybody, the judges had to call the girls tug-of-war a tie. Equally victorious teams were (1) Gigi Vasilevich, Barbara Crowe, Sandy Thiemann, Gerry Heick, Bonnie Blacheley, Pat Woods, Mary Woods, Cindy Travinsky, Cheryl Quanstrom, Joline Dollison and Judy Thiemann, and (2) Claudia Henderson, Pat Phillips, Ellen Fanfelle, Trudy Felken, Joanne Fanfelle, Barbara Banks, Charlotte Webb, Carol Rose, Judy Fanfelle, Sally Walker, Judy Heick and Connie Lynch.

The boys' contests came out with winning teams. Steve Milam, Bruce Hix, Jerry Ward, Ed Raymond, Jim Frost, Jim Swoverland, Dan McGowan, and Bruce Spry walked off with the 10-years-and-older event, and Kenny Phillips, Steve McGowan, Steve English, Kirk Atwood, Joey Fernekes, Tom Winkler, Mark Fitzpatrick, Jim Winkler, Mark Fitzpatrick, Jim Henderson, Ken Stettler, Dave Milton, Mike Clarkson, Mike Storm, and Robert Williams won the 10 -years-and-under contest.

Westlake Stores Offer Annual July Clearance

Westlake Shopping Center's merchants teamed up this week to offer their annual "July Clearance," which will be in effect today through Saturday.

Twenty-eight stores and Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., are taking part in the event, which is being promoted through a special circular included in two issues of Marchbanks Publications.

The special Westlake Shopping Center advertising section includes hundreds of July Clearance merchandise and service items at greatly reduced prices, according to the merchants group.

The special sale is one of many yearly promotions sponsored by Westlake Business and Professional association.

Attendance Tops As Summer Rec. Enters 4th Week

Coordinated summer recreation program, sponsored by the city parks and recreation department and Jefferson Elementary school district, has entered its fourth booming week, with attendance "never better," according to Dee Van Nest, city rec director.

Last Wednesday, pet shows were conducted at all local playgrounds, with prizes for all. Moms did the judging following the parade of all types of creatures.

Races, relays and novelty contests followed the pet spectacles.

Big event this week—Thursday—is a city-wide Sports Playday. Colma and Westlake school playgrounds will be crowded to the hilt. These two centers will host tournaments and special activities.

On Thursday, July 18, Marchbanks park will be the site of the fourth annual city-wide Carnival Day . . . . the highlight of the summer program. The day-long festivities begin at noon. Booths, prizes and refreshments will provide the carnival - type atmosphere. A special mystery house, "Den of Horrors," will be a featured attraction for the boldest youngsters.

Playground leaders have full details on the carnival.

First outing sponsored by Van Nest's department—a trip to Fleishhackers Zoo — found almost 500 local children making the jaunt. No casualties, thanks to 18 recreation leaders, and a great time was had by all —even the adults.

Leatherneck Sanchez Ends Boot Training

John R. Sanchez, son of Mrs. Henrietta Aquino of 209 Peoria street, completed recruit training the last week in July at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego.

The 11-week course included instruction in all basic military subjects and the firing of all basic infantry weapons.

Upon completion of training new Marines are assigned to a unit for further infantry training, or to one of the many Marine Corps schools.

DC Group Back East For Scout 'Jamboree'

Two adult leaders and four Boy Scouts from the Lake Merced district departed by plane Monday for the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

Accompanying the four Scouts were City Manager Howard Stites, district commissioner and Scoutmaster of Jamboree Troop 6, one of three troops attending from the San Francisco Scout Council; and Gilbert W. Buffery, 241 Wilshire avenue, district Scout executive who is acting as tour leader for the three S.F. units attending the Jamboree.

Boys from this district making the trip are: Howard F. Stites, 34 Northgate, the manager's son; Fred W. Voltmer, 421 Crestlake drive; Charles E. Cully, 678 Stoneyford drive; and Robert G. Kay, 110 Crestwood drive.

The two weeks' whirlwind of activities include three days touring New York, seven days at the Valley Forge encampment and a three-day visit to Washington, D.C.

The contingent will return July 22.

A total of 120 Scouts and leaders from the San Francisco council are making the trip.

Two Jeff Grads Sign With Navy

Two more Jeff High graduates, Robert J. Supanich and Thomas D. Prentice, recently signed up with US Navy at the recruiting station here.

Supanich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Supanich, 363 Woodrow street and Prentice is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil C. Prentice, 353 Hanover street.

The pair quailified for the Navy's High School Graduate Training Program. Both are guaranteed training in a technical school in the field of their choice. Among these fields are the aviation, electronic, mechanical, guided missile, medical and nuclear power ratings.

They will receive "boot" training at San Diego Naval Training Center for nine weeks, after which they will be sent to a technical school in the field of their choice.

Information on naval opportunities and the High School Graduate Training Program is obtainable at the recruiting station, 6705 Mission street, PL 6-3740.

G-Village Moms Tell Plans For Pre-schoolers

For every school age child who enjoys the summer recreation program at Garden Village school, sooner or later there must be counted a small pre-school brother or sister, who enjoys spending the day at the school grounds too. Most of their activity, however, is limited, as the facilities are geared for children of a higher age level.

A group of mothers, headed by Mrs. Peter Constantine, have decided to take the situation in hand. They have planned certain activities at certain times for the preschool age children, and are busy recruiting mothers so that they will have enough "staff" to handle a maximum schedule.

Present plans call for an arts and crafts program from 10:30 to 12 each morning except Thursdays, with mother helpers, and a supervised period of play on the swings and slides, etc, from 10:30 to 12 and 1:30 to 3:30 each day except Thursdays. There will be outdoor games as well, and the preschoolers will be able to enjoy the already existing reading room books, puzzles, and blocks. Arts and crafts director Alice Overstreet will help plan the projects, but supervision and the success of this special series will depend entirely on mother volunteers, as small children need more definite leadership and help.

Anyone who would like to help make summer recreation something wonderful for small ones may call Mrs. Constantine at PL 5-4534. She will have charge of these particular time assignments.

Calls for volunteer helpers with the older groups are being made by members of James L. Snell PTA. Information may be obtaned from the directors at Garden Village School or from Mrs. Irwin Cohen, PL 6-0460, Mrs. John D. Mitchell, PL 5-0679, and Mrs. Fred Smith, PL 5-8648.

Culprits Cop Copper Wire—Loads Of It

Fence-busting thieves invaded the PG&E utility yard off Edgemar road last week, wearily making off with almost a ton of copper wire.

The bold raid happened during the holiday period, police said. The thieves, who probably used a truck, sliced a 30" by 30" hole in the wire fence to gain entry. The wire was taken from PG&E trucks. Nothing else in the yard was touched.

A PG&E spokesman said the missing wire was worth $860—1546 pounds in all.

PROGRAM CHANGES . . . "Now where in the world is that program," you ask yourself as you frantically turn the dial trying to locate your favorite television show. It is that time of year when many program changes occur—old favorites go off the air and new programs appear. During summer months also we find many re-runs of programs which were popular during the past season.

Generally, we do not object to re-runs of a program that was particularly outstanding such as the fine dramatic presentation over G.E. Theater (KPIX) starring Piper Laurie which was telecast earlier in the season, and shown again last Sunday night. However, we do object to cluttering up the TV lanes with re-runs of programs that shouldn't have been on in the first place.

As to new shows, KQED with a fine record of excellent "live" productions is right on top with several new shows. A completely delightful program is the series on Japanese brush painting (Tuesdays, 8 p.m.), featuring instruction by T. Mikami, Japanesee painter and director of San Francisco's Japanese art center. A must for amateur photographers is "Taking Better Pictures" (Mondays, 7:30). Two additional recent programs of merit are "Profile: Bay Area" Mondays, 9:30 p.m.) and "Current Issue" (Thursdays, 9:30 p.m.). If you are planning a trip to Spain or Mexico soon, we suggest you watch "Spanish Without Tears" which premiered this week (Wednesdays, 8:30), featuring Dr. Joseph Raymond of San Jose State College in a series of Spanish lessons for adults.

Two excellent new shows recently added to KRON-TV's summer schedule include the fine documentary "Kingdom of the Sea" (Mondays, 7 p.m.), telecast in color, and for the youngsters, "Junior Mr. America" Saturdays, 5 p.m.), demonstrating simple exercise routines for the bicycle set. Last week "Close Up" premiered over Channel 4, featuring charming Marjorie Trumbull in a new Sunday series at 2 p.m.

Hearing KPIX's list of new shows is the new Gallo Wine series, "The New Adventures of Martin Kane," which premieres this Friday, July 12 at 10 p.m. Based on police files from European cities and featuring the famous star William Gargan, the program should have adventure fans sitting on the edge of their chairs. Last week marked the debut of new program "World News Roundup" with Eric Sevaried at 2:30 p.m. and two excellent programs, "Face the Nation" and "Adventures in Living," returned to Channel 5. The popular exercise show featuring Jack LaLanne recently moved to a new time over KGO-TV and is now seen Monday through Friday at 11:15 a.m. Looking ahead to fall, KGO-TV announces that new hour-long dramatic film series produced by Warner Brothers will begin in September.

Cubs In Pack 293 Flash Blue Ribbon For 'Scout-o-Rama'

Last meeting of the summer by Cub Pack 293 in the multiuse room of Benjamin Franklin school found Cubmaster Garrettson displaying the blue ribbon which the Pack was awarded at the recent Scout-o-Rama for Japanese wind chimes.

Boys of the Pack and their families had another ice skating party at the Legg School of Ice Skating on June 20.

Awards presented at the meeting were as follows: Don Fisicaro and Al Benfield received their Webelos Badges, with a two-year pin for Don as well. Joe Norton, Ira McKee, and Mike Clarkson received Bear Badges, and Assistant Denner for Ira. Wolf Gold Arrows went to Johnny Bianchi and Dan Norton. Wolf Silver Arrows were presented Johnny Rizzo and Bob Hollenbeck, plus a Denner stripe for Bob. Randy Tiner received his Denner stripe, and Ken Lindeman his Assistant Denner. Brian Giese and Bobby Adamson received their one-year pins, and Bill Voreyes and Ethan Smith were awarded Bobcat pins.

'Make-shift' Drug 9 Grabs 3rd Loop Win

Playing with a make-shift infield and only nine men, Daly City Drugs won their third straight league game from Milano Inn, 6-4, at Balboa Park last Saturday. Taking on St. Gabriel's an older team made up of St. Ignatius players, the locals lost by the same score Sunday at Marchbanks.

Barry Krohn was the only regular infielder against Milano, but Billy Ludwigsen held his opponents to seven hits, walked none, and struck out three. His mates made three errors.

Mike Wall had a perfect day at bat, going two for two, while pattroling second flawlessly. Mike Lanthier got one hit and drove in a run. Barry Krohn, Danny Luciano, Tom McHugh, Mike O'Leary and Bill Hynes accounted for the other bingles off Don Kunkle.

Three were injured: Larry Kane, filling in at first for Milano, fielded a ground ball and collided with Bobby McNielly. McNielly's nose was broken and Kane suffered a mild concussion. Bill Hynes was hit on the head while sliding into second.

Krohn held the Spartans to five hits, but walked five and had three costly miscues behind him to give the high school lads four unearned runs. Barry struck out three, but gave up two runs in the second on a walk and an error.

The Creighton - Krohn kids bounced back in the third with three runs and got another in the fifth. They were leading 4-2 when the Spartans came up. Moore flied out to O'Leary, but Marty walked and Hynes bobbled Dean's grounder to third. Falzon then rapped a clean blow to center, driving in two.

Burton grounded out, but Johnson walked and Carlin smashed a long one down the first base line to bring in two more. O'Keefe set the Druggists down in the sixth and Crnich came on to blank them in the seventh.

Daly City Drugs will meet Portola at Balboa Park at 10 a.m. Saturday. The new league starts at Marchbanks on Sunday.

MOSSI STINT IN CLASSIC SHORT-LIVED

Daly City's Don Mossi pitched to only two batters in Tuesday's major league All - Star Game at St. Louis.

The Cleveland lefty came in the ninth for southpaw Billy Pierce after the Chicagoan issued a pair of walks and a triple to Willie Mays.

Mossi fanned Milwaukee's Eddie Matthews, then was slapped for a single by Cub Ernie Banks. Casey Stengel then yanked Mossi for Bob Grim. The Yank righthander snuffed the uprising by getting Gil Hodges to line out.

The AL squad and Mossi survived, 6-5. Win went to starter Jim Bunning of Detroit.

TRUSTEES APPOINT BLDG. SUPERVISORS FOR JEFF, W'MOOR

Building supervisors for Jefferson and Westmoor were appointed Monday night by high school district trustees.

George Fair, 248 Abbott avenue, will be in charge at Westmoor. Bill Lewis, 309 Miriam street, assumes similar duty at Jefferson.

Fair has been with the district since 1947, Lewis since 1951. Lewis is president of the JUHS Classified Employees association. Fair serves on the executive board.

DC Nine Battles Millbrae In Loop Debut Saturday

Northern Division Junior Baseball League opens this Saturday morning at Marchbanks, with Rich Warne's Daly City nine hosting Millbrae. Game begins at 10:30 o'clock.

All loop games are called for Marchbanks on successive Saturdays, the next five weeks.

Other teams in the circuit are Colma, South City, Burlingame and San Bruno.

Winner of the league will meet the southern division champ in a two-out-of-three series for the county title.

The DC squad is composed of boys from Westmoor and Jefferson.

Pack 259 Lads, Dads Set Baseball Outing

This Saturday, July 13, will be fathers and sons day for Cub Pack 259. Boys from all five dens and their fathers will attend the baseball game at Seals Stadium that afternoon, and den mothers are busy lining up transportation. Cubs and their fathers should plan to leave at about 12:30 and to be home around 4:30. All information about finances and available transportation may be had by calling the den mothers, each of whom is making arrangements for her own den.

More than 3 billion gallons of petroleum fuels were used last year by farm tractors alone, according to the National Automobile Club.

GENDARME Art Linhares of Daly City qualified Sunday — the fourth time — for the National Public Links golf tourney, July 29-August 3, in Hershey, Pennsylvania. Personable Art carded 79 and 71 scores, at Harding Park to finish fourth among Bay Area qualifiers. Linhares has played with the best in the business.

Kids Will Take Over Lake For Fishing Outing

Two hundred Daly City area youngsters will compete for three prizes next Wednesday at Lake Merced as the Daly City-Colma Lions present their annual "Kids Fishing Day."

Prizes will be awarded for the two largest and the smallest fish caught during the day.

Any boy or girl eight years or older interested in attending the outing should contact the recreation center in his or her area. Free transportation will be provided by Northgate Transit Co. and Lions members. Pick-up points for Wednesday morning at 8 a.m. are as follows: Garden Village school, Westlake school, Daly City War Memorial building and Colma school. Children owning their own poles are asked to bring them. Free lunches will be given all youngsters.

Recreation coordinator for the event will be Elman Rose, while chairman for the Lions is Ray Lagomarsino.

Pappy Waldorf To Invade Westlake

Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf, former California coach now with the 49ers, will discuss his favorite topic at Westlake Lodge next Thursday night, July 18, at 8:30 o'clock.

Pappy, chief personnel scout for the San Francisco pros, will comment on Frankie Albert's prospects, preview the collegiate outlook, and show films.

Waldorf's appearances sponsored by Frank Davdson, Lodge proprietor and a solid 49er booster.

All football fans are invited to hear the "Wise Walrus of Strawberry Canyon," Davidson said.

The Lodge is located in Westlake Shopping Center off South Mayfair avenue.

FELT HATS

Three or four rabbit skins are used to make one felt hat, reports the National Automobile Club.

HEADING East tomorrow will be Wayne Giusti, Jeff High junior, who competes with the country's best young linksmen next week in the U.S. Golf Association Junior Golf Tourney at Washington D.C. Tourney begins Wednesday and ends July 20. Approximately 128 juniors, 17 and under, are entered. A caddy at Lake Merced, Wayne is Daly City's first representative in the national meet. He lives at 6785 Mission street.

VAN NEST PROVIDES RUNDOWN ON WESTLAKE REC ACTIVITIES

Weekly summer recreation reports from Westlake and Olympia schools and Westlake playground read as follows today from Dee Van Nest, city director of parks and recreation:

Westlake park — Heading the popularity list are ping-pong, carrom and "quiet" games. Greg and Dennis McHugh are getting good with chess. Pete Pollat, a real competitor, is improving his ping-pong skills. Instruction in social room games is offered on Wednesdays at 3 o'clock.

In the pet contest last week, Westlake park and Olympia school shared the spectacle.

Poppy, owned by Joel and Karen Wine, won two awards. One for having the most spots, the second for performing the most tricks.

Longest tail honors went to Lady, owned by Judy Majoursie, and Martha Kerr's dog, Hummy, was judged to have the longest ears.

Diane Martarana's family of cats won the most numerous award, and one of the felines had the longest whiskers. Cho Cho, owned by Clay Stringer, was picked prettiest kitty.

Marshall Torre's parakeet, Madame Butterfly, was given the prettiest bird award while Noe Catagnola's bird was able to perform the most tricks. Shirley Robinsons' guppies won for the smallest fish, and Spotty, Neil Blackfield's fish, was the prettiest.

Other awards were given to Linda Taylor's turtle, Speedy, for winning the turtle race; Peter Keelen's pet pig, Miss Muffins, th emost unusual pet; and Sweety Bobby Plant's car, for the best dressed pet.

After the judging, novelty races were next to complete the program. Arnold Ertola, Michael Spieglman, Frank Bellante, Steven Bach, Bobby Niklewiez, Randy Karp, Michael Keelen, Pamala Wolf and Linda Robinson proved too much competition for the other participants.

Next week will be "Fun Week" at Westlake park. A box luncheon is set Monday. On Tuesday, a baby picture contest will be the highlight of the day, and on Wednesday, the attraction will be the annual Lion's Club Fishing Day. "Fun Week" will terminate on Thursday with a Doll Show and the annual Penny Carnival. Information regarding Fun Week can be obtained from the director.

Westlake school — The softball league ends this week. New teams will be picked next week as many boys have expressed interest in playing ball. This weeks scores were: Holmgren 15, Rice 14; Wednesday's game was Holmgren 24, Bosberry 8. If Rice defeats Bosberry's team this Friday, there will be a play-off game on Monday, for the league championship.

The new "Model Biulding Club" is stirring up quite a bit of interest. Several boys have signed up to date. The club meets two days a week, Tuesdays, 10:30 to 12, and Wednesdays, 3:15 to 4:30. Anyone intrested should contact Mr. Mendosa at Westlake school playground.

The coming All-City Playday, held at the school July 11, is being looked forward to by all boys and girls. There is a large signup to date for all age groups.

Last week's pet show was a huge success with about 25 entries. Entries and prize winners were: Dogs, cutest costumes: Reggie, Susan Peirano; Mickey, Steve Pollak; and Martini, Paula Lewis—all tied for first place. Others entries were: Mutise, Philip Heeshman; Mignon, Kathy Zatovich; Tootsie, Penny Wooster; Brownie, Lawrence Mecchi; Freckles, Linda Hallett.

Jeff High Cagers Lead No. County Summer Leagues

Jefferson's unbeaten varsity and lightweight cagers are riding atop the North County Summer Basketball League with two victories apiece.

The Tribe quints have posted wins over South City and Burlingame, with Riordan the opposition this week here.

Westmoor's cagers are winless in action to date, losing to Burlingame and Capuchino. The Rams clash with South City this week.

Jeff varsity starters are Gene Firth and Bob Berry at forwards, Dennis Marc at center, and Barry Haanen and Gary Ryan at guards. Also seeing duty are Ernie Howren, Wayne Lewis, Ino Patron, Rich Scatena and Dick Fudge.

With these boys back in this fall, Jeff's varsity looms as a threat for the PAL championship. Haanen and Ryan, the Brisbane twins, were starters last time as the Indians grabbed second in the NPAL. Lewis led NPAL lightweights in scoring.

2 Hardball Loops Debut Sunday

Two summer baseball leagues open this Sunday, one at Marchbanks and the other at Westlake park.

Marchbanks hosts the "Under 13" loop, composed of the DC Drugs, Coastside Lions, Milano Inn and the DC Reds. They will play a double round-robin schedule, morning games starting at 11 and afternoon tilts at 2.

The midgets take over at Westlake park. Entered are BYA, Westlake Flying A, San Pedro Lunch, South Sunset and the DC Reds. All Westlake park tilts commence at 10 o'clock.

REALTY MEN, PUB KEEPERS EKE OUT WINS

Back - in - the - pack teams picked up steam last week in the City Twilight Softball League.

Leading Ralph's, the cleaning men, were idle. The 3-0 front runners return to action Wednesday against Shannon Hardware. Tilt is 6:30 p.m. at Marchbanks.

Lagomarsino Realty broke into the win column with a 4-2 nod over Westlake Richfield. Stumble Inn wobbled to a 4-3 decision over the Druids. And Shannon moved up to tie for second with a win over Westlake Lodge, score unavailable.

Games next week, all at Westlake park, pit: Druids and the Lodge, the Stumblers against Lagomarsino, and DC Drugs versus the Richfield gas house five plus four.

HOW THEY STAND

Boys 10, 25-yard race, second, Danny Craig.

Thanks to Mrs. Mary Calegari and Mrs. Barbara Senkir for help on the pet show and relays. Latest fads at Community Center are deck shuffleboard and wiffle ball. Bill Hopman and Bob Wisman are the shuffleboard kings. Leading wiffleball artists are Mike Brush, George Ojakian, Joann Aiello and Mary Lou Miller. In pre-league games, Mike Brush leads opposing pitchers in strikeouts with 25 in three games.

Crocker School

On Wednesday, 118 children enjoyed Abbott & Costello in "Captain Kidd." That afternoon, children went to Lincoln playground for a joint pet show.

Frankfort Playground

Fingerpainting has become very popular with the children attending the Tiny Tots program on Friday mornings. Many interesting and intricate designs have been created by the children.

Colma School

Mr. Peabody attended the pet show, attired in a five-gallon Stetson and new silk scarf. His owner, Martin Middleton, happily accepted Peabody's first place ribbon for the best decorated dog.

Duchess, of Callan Heights, a beautiful Collie, was largest dog in the show, while Chilibean (owner Gail Small) won the title of smallest dog.

Other honors were received by Suzie, Mary Telles owner; Sweetie, Helen Skaterik; Mr. Murphy, Al Didby. Winners of unusual pet classes were Niblette, a rat; Nancy, a rabbit; and Oswald, a frog.

Last week, 33 children took part in a scavenger hunt. Youngsters searching for items such as one empty bird nest, piece of heavily knotted string, purple flowered earrings, were Ron Fillmore, Karen and Linda Luciano, and the Michaels boys, Bobby and Ronny.

By sheer determination and resourcefulness, Dennis Bottarc led his group to victory. David Padilla found some "near impossible" items, while searcher Ricky Vanaken brought in most of the buried treasure.

Marchbank Park

Most popular event at Marchbanks last week was the Pet Show. Youngsters representing Marchbanks who won first place certificates were: Buddy Mirs and Diane Newcomb, most unusual entry—two ducks. Diana Davison, greatest variety of fish. Roy Phelps, largest cat; Lorraine Panella, prettiest bird; Sue Ann Young, smallest dog; Danny Dempsey, dog with the nicest coat of hair. Second place ribbons went to Yola and Deborah Golini, for the prettiest cat and originality of presentation, and Dale Westrom, smallest kittens.

Thanks to Mrs. Gloria Holmberg and Mrs. Marion Golini for acting as judges. Following, representing Marchbanks, won ribbons in their respective races: Girls, eight and under: basketball dribble race; second place, Carol Ann Coy. Nine and over: hopping race, first place, Carol Perotti. Boys, 25-yard dash, six years and under, first place, Bobby Smith; second, Donnie Smith; 25-yard dash, 7 and 8 years, first place, Keith Stoller; second, Freddie Garcia; 9 years, first, Norman Garcia; 10 years, second, Danny Drew; 11 years and over, first, Danny Dempsey; third, John Lobsinger.

Junior Baseball School has a very large attendance. Ditto on response for Wednesday afternoon archery lessons. Thirty youngsters have entered the ping-pong 'tournament. Afternoon arts and crafts classes have been very large. Lorraine and Bonnie Panella and Paul Craig have helped the director in conducting these.

Lincoln

Highlight of the week's activities was a pet show and novelty race program in conjunction with the Crocker school playground. Children brought pets of all descriptions. Children receiving awards for their pets follow: Best looking dog, Linda Petric; ugliest dog and dog with the longest tail, Tony Pina: Dog with the most spots, Ann Neely; ugliest animal in show, fleas, Paul Molina and others; prettiest cat, Valiere Pina; best dressed cat, Valiere Pina; ugliest cat, Charles Morales; dog with biggest teeth, Jay Jones; biggest dog, Teddy Titcular; smallest dog, Eddie Lauires; prettiest bird, Bev Stura; prettiest fish, Madalyn Tremaroli.

Children acted as judges and indicated their preferences by applause. Grand prize "for the best pet" went to Paul Molina and others for their fleas.

Other activities were story telling hour, movies, and arts and crafts. A softball game was held with Crocker school. Also staged was a ping-pong tournament for girls under 11, which saw Pamela Holmes emerge as the winner. Nancy Lee Sgambatie was runner-up and Mary Rymarkieweiz was third. This week, tetherball tournaments for girls and boys are planned. Also a ping pong tournament, story-telling, movies, arts and crafts, and several softball games with other playgrounds.

Edgewood Playground

Richard Hanick beat Vickie Alvarez, 21-13, to become ping pong champion of this playground. Tuesday, July 2, started with a buried treasure hunt for pre-school children. Irene Malinoff, Janice Enberg, and Bobbie Steele were three of the lucky finders. Seven prizes and balloons for all who hunted were donated by Lee's Drug Store. Twilight until 10 p.m. brought approximately 100 older children and 15 adults for a weiner roast and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Enberg directed the roast and acquired the lights. Bobby and Freddie Brooks and friends were the decorating committee and put up cartoon pictures drawn by Mrs. M. DeBernardi. Music was supplied by Richard Hanick and Patty Doyle.

Wednesday, July 3, Mrs. Carlson and Mrs. Jubeault judged every type of pet from a cocoon, smallest pet owned by Linda and Susan Madonich, to German Shephard dog, largest pet and best behaved dog, owned by Tommy and Tina Enberg. Mark Bullock had the best decorated pet and Chris Jubeault the best groomed cat. Judy Reed came with the most original pet, a complete black-twin rabbit. Dennis Murray came in second with a large black Moor. It was fun for all. July 16th the playground is going on a hike. Anyone interested should see the rec leader.

San Pedro Lunch Nine Wins, 12-5

Richard Holmberg hurled San Pedro Lunch's Midgets to a 12-5 win over Westlake Flying A in a practice game Monday at Westlake park.

Catcher Rock Bronson handled Holmberg's five-hit effort. Loser Buddy Williams was rapped for 11 hits. He also yielded 11 walks.

Gus Sebastiani's team previosuly tripped the Westlake squad, 17-15, and lost 19-2 to the Portola Yanks.
